

Slavery and Human Trafficking statement as required under s54, Part 6, of the Modern Slavery Act [1] 2015

1. Introduction

Analytical Components Ltd is committed to ensuring that its business dealings are carried out in compliance with the relevant laws and, in doing so, we endorse the implementation and promotion of ethical business practices to protect workers from being abused and exploited.

The Company is committed to preventing slavery and human trafficking in its corporate activities and to ensuring that its supply chains are free from slavery and human trafficking.

2. Organisation Structure

This statement covers the activities of Analytical Components

3. Relevant Policies

The Company has a basic code of business practice that mitigate the risk of modern slavery and set out steps to be taken to prevent slavery and human trafficking in its operations.

4.1 Whistleblowing

The Company encourages all its workers, customers and other business partners to report any concerns related to the direct activities, or the supply chains of, the organisation. This includes any circumstances that may give rise to an enhanced risk of slavery or human trafficking. The Company's whistleblowing procedure is designed to make it easy for workers to make disclosures, without fear of retaliation.

4.2 Supplier Chain Management

Whilst the Company exercises a vital role in the supply of components for critical analytical equipment, it does have a supply chain that is reliant on factories or other entities.

As a general rule, contractors and suppliers used by Analytical Components should have their own policies and practices to ensure that modern day slavery and trafficking are existence anywhere in the supply chain. However, we are mindful that others may not always uphold standards to the same level as Analytical Components and it's suppliers. Consequently, employees responsible for managing suppliers and others involved with the company are, themselves, responsible for ensuring that our values and ideals are upheld. This continues to be a work in progress and we are strengthening our controls as new contracts are agreed. For example, serious violations by suppliers will lead to the termination of the business relationship.

4.3 Recruitment and Selection

The Company uses only specified, reputable employment agencies to source labour. All entities in the company ensure appropriate controls are in place to ensure employees have the right to work and are therefore protected by employment legislation.

The Company does not employ individuals that would be considered to be 'child workers'. Young and inexperienced workers may be employed or given work experience, but they are subject to the rights and protections that we afford all workers.

Basic rights which we expect all workers to enjoy, include:

- The right to a reasonable wage
- The right to a safe working environment
- The right to an appropriate level of holiday and cover for period of sickness
- The freedom to complain directly via our whistleblowing policy free of charge, if they believe that they are not being fairly treated or have any other concerns.
